June 2023 Newsletter

Dear Parents / Carers,

With the weather forecast for much warmer weather over the coming weeks, please ensure that your child wears sun cream and brings a sun hat and plenty of water to school (please label everything).

The advice given from Cancer UK is to choose a wide-brimmed hat to shade face, ears and neck to give the most UV protection.

For young children that do bring suncream to school, staff will encourage a 'mirror' strategy to demonstrate how to apply their cream and assist with quantities.

During these very warm days, staff will also ensure that children spend time in the cool of the classroom with the lights off. For activities planned in the outdoors, the shelters and shaded areas of the school environment will be used. Staff will also encourage the children to drink plenty of water and replenish when necessary.

A number of parents have contacted the school concerned that a number of Nivea sun cream products now contains almond nut oil –

Please see below the advice from Allergy UK

Safety statement on use of Almond Oil In Nivea Sun Protect and Care Products for Children

Every raw material used in cosmetic finished products, as well as the finished product itself is assessed by Beiersdorf following state-of-art consumer safety guidelines.

The raw material Almond oil used in Nivea Sun Protect and Care children's products is a refined oil of sweet almonds. Due to the specific production and purification process, refined almond oil is free of proteins which are the allergenic substances in almonds.

Based on this data, together with the assessed use concentration of almond oil in Nivea Sun Protect and Care products for children, an allergenic potential of this ingredient can be excluded.

The cosmetic product regulation requires all ingredients to be listed on the cosmetic product. For this labelling purpose, it is required to use the common ingredient name according to the International Nomenclature of Cosmetic Ingredients (INCI). The INCI name of Sweet Almond Oil is Prunus Amygdalus Dulcis Oil. The products are labelled in compliance with the above-mentioned provisions.

If your child is suffering from hayfever and needs additional medication during the day, please ensure that a medicine consent form is completed and handed to a member of staff. Forms are available from the main entrance in the Reception Foyer.
